IRISH FISHING INDUSTRY.

Lanesville Man Writes Relative to American Tariff and Mackerel Trade

The TIMES is in receipt of a copy of the Cork County Eagle and Munster Advertiser of Ireland of May 7, containing the following communication from Mr. Sidney G. Gott of Lanesville, who is now at Skibbereen, relative to the Irish fishing industry and the American tariff.

"Now, the United States have imposed a further duty of one half-penny per pound on the pickle the fish are shipped in, which the industry cannot stand, and the Irish mackerel curing industry will be crippled to a great extent. In the past few years the fishermen have been very poorly paid, and only a few of the more successful have been able to pay their way, and now if this extra duty of five shillings per barrel is imposed it will be ruinous to them.

"Besides the circular I handed you in the matter of the tariff on cured mackerel, perhaps a few facts might be of interest to your readers. Last season, 1903, there were about 70,000 barrels of mackerel cured in Ireland, and the average cost would be for barrels fish, salt, and labour, about 55 shillings per barrel, delivered in Liverpool, which would make about 190,000 pounds paid out. In addition to this outlay 8 shillings per barrel had to be paid to the United States Government—about 28,000 pounds—in tariff.

"The United States importers are doing all in their power to have this extra tariff taken off, and everyone on this side of the Atlantic should help them in their endeavor, for this unfair duty will be a very great drawback to the Irish mackerel curing industry."

Dogfish Already on Georges.

Capt. Augustus Peterson of Niagara reports that dogfish have already struck on Georges in large numbers, being so thick as to fairly drive them off some of the spots and fairly broke up the trip.

Bait Cheap at North Sydney.

Most of the French bankers which have been at North Sydney during the past couple of weeks have been baited, and the price of herring, which ruled at $2 per barrel for some time, has now dropped to $1. The run of herring has been very good and local fishermen have reaped a harvest. Archibald & Co., through whom most of the business with the local men has been transacted, have paid out over $6000 within the past month, and besides this sum it is estimated that nearly $2000 more has been paid out by the captains of the vessels. Fishermen from various sections of the county have come here to gather in some of the French gold, two brothers named Campbell, from Mainadieu, clearing over $130 as the result of two days' work.

First Mackerel on Nova Scotia Coast.

Among the telegraphic reports received Saturday night at the Fisheries Intelligence Bureau was one from Yarmouth, stating that Cranberry Head Trap had on the 13th instant pursued for the first time this season for two mackerel. This makes the mackerel five days later appearing on our coast than last year mackerel having struck in along the same district on the 8th of May, when the above mentioned trap reported a similar number.

Sch. Nokomis at New York.

The mackerel netter Nokomis of this port is at New York today with 1200 fresh mackerel.
